

TAMPA BAY AREA WRITING PROJECT PRESENTS 2017 FALL CONFERENCE

Saturday, November 4, 2017 | 7:30 AM - 1:30 PM | USF College of Education

Join us to learn from Tampa Bay Area Writing Project Teacher Consultants who will share the lessons, materials, and strategies that motivate their students to write and lead to increased academic achievement. Sessions focusing on both elementary and secondary students will be available.

$75 Teachers
$30 Students

TBAWP Teaching Consults may attend the Fall Conference free-of-charge.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: TAYLOR MALI

Taylor Mali is one of the most well-known poets to have emerged from the poetry slam movement and one of the original poets to appear on the HBO series Def Poetry Jam. A four-time National Poetry Slam champion, he is the author of two collections of poetry and a book of essays, What Teachers Make: In Praise of the Greatest Job in the World. In April of 2012, Mali completed a 12-year project of convincing 1,000 people to become teachers and marked the occasion by donating 12 inches of his hair to the American Cancer Society. Years ago he was the official voice of Burger King.

View the Full Conference Schedule and Register at bit.ly/TBAWP2017

About the Tampa Bay Area Writing Project:

The Tampa Bay Area Writing Project (TBAWP) is an affiliate of the National Writing Project and a partner with the University of South Florida. Consisting of highly skilled Teacher Consultants who are expert classroom educators from all grade levels and disciplines, TBAWP is committed to improving writing and learning across the Tampa Bay area.

